STATUTES OF HOPE DAY CAMEROON

FULL TEXT OF THE STATUTES

Preamble

Whereas :

- Education is a fundamental right for all children;
- Many children are still deprived of their right to education, protection, and an environment conducive to their development;
- This deprivation remains particularly concerning among vulnerable populations and young people in precarious situations;
- This situation is closely linked to ignorance, poverty, social and security crises, as well as a lack of awareness of children's rights, factors which significantly hinder economic development, social well-being, and the inclusion of children in society;
